Notes:

1. According to the Guidelines for Recruiting International Scholars, the University may appoint recipients of Nobel Prizes or equivalent international honors, national-level academicians, or internationally acclaimed scholars as Distinguished Chair Professors for teaching or research purposes. Please check the applicable criteria and provide documentation where applicable.
2. In principle, Distinguished Chair Professors do not require review by departmental or college-level faculty review committees. The hiring unit may directly submit the appointment period and funding source to the President for recommendation, and finalize the appointment after Administrative Meeting approval.
3. For honorarium recipients, approval documents for departmental or university-level funding must be attached.
4. Retirees receiving monthly retirement payments must comply with the Regulations on Retirement, Severance and Compensation for Public School Faculty and Staff if appointed to a paid public position again.
